Schools celebrate pass rate rises

Waltham Forest schools and students had much to celebrate as GCSE results were announced on Thursday 23 August.

Schools throughout the borough have been celebrating impressive GCSE results, including Buxton School in Leytonstone which achieved its best ever exam results, with a 12 per cent rise in pupils achieving five or more A* to C grades.

The school's top student gained a remarkable 15 GCSEs with 10 A* and five grade As. Former Head Boy, Ralph Kramer, told Waltham Forest News, "I am shocked, stunned and delighted with my grades. I can now take my place at City of Westminster College".

Executive Headteacher, Kath Wheeler, said, "We are delighted to be able to congratulate our students on such great results. This is just the beginning of what our young people can achieve and we wish them good luck for their future."

Down the road at Norlington School for Boys in Leyton Headteacher, John Hernandez, was similarly delighted with his pupils' 15 per cent jump in the pass rate of five or more A* to C grades including English and Maths.

Students celebrate at Frederick Bremer School

Councillor Clare Coghill, Cabinet Member for Children and Young People, visited Norlington on the morning students opened their brown paper envelopes. "It was such a wonderful atmosphere in that school hall," she said.

"There was a real sense of community and togetherness among the students and staff and a shared sense of achievement. It's a school that has improved markedly since John has been at the helm and these results bear testament to their continued development."

Elsewhere there were similar good news stories. George Mitchell School in Leyton and Connaught School for Girls in Leytonstone experienced pass rate hikes of 12 per cent and 11 per cent respectively. In the north of the borough Heathcote School, Chingford also saw a 10 per cent jump in its pass rate making for the school's best results ever.

In my opinion

Terry White
Resident, Walthamstow

Last year I applied to volunteer at the Olympic and Paralympic Games, and I was delighted when I was chosen as one of the 70,000 ‘Gamesmakers’.

Throughout the Olympic Games my Guide Dog Kent and I have been based at the Athletes Village and at the Excel Centre for the fencing events.

I used to fence when I was younger, so was chosen to help those athletes with everything from booking into training sessions to getting around the Olympic Park.

I am the only Guide Dog owner who volunteered at the Olympics and without Kent this would have been very difficult. He guided me to and from the venues every day and allowed me to meet a lot of athletes who came over to make a fuss of him.

Kent has loved the attention but it’s also been hard work for him. He’s not used to getting out of his bed at 5.45am!

I applied to volunteer because I’ve always been very interested in athletics and used to do it when I still had some sight. I would have loved to compete at the Games, but as I’m now totally blind it wasn’t really an option.

Volunteering has been an amazing experience. I’ve met people from all over the world, including some countries I had never heard of. London has put on a wonderful spectacle and I’ve heard a lot of athletes and officials say that London 2012 was the best Olympic Games ever.

I was also lucky enough to be in the crowd at the Olympic Stadium on the day Mo Farah won his second gold for the 5,000 metres. Although I obviously couldn’t see the race I got to feel the spirit, the atmosphere and the roar of the crowd. It was a wonderful experience and one I will remember forever.

I am delighted that I am also going to volunteer for the Paralympic Games and will be working with the wheelchair fencing athletes. I feel really honoured to have been part of London 2012.

I think the Games have been a great thing for Waltham Forest, for London and the whole country. I hope the spirit continues.

GCSE students celebrate

- Nerves, tension, tears and joy – all the fun of exam results day!
- It’s onwards and upwards for GCSE students in wake of results

Frederick Bremer School student Riddick Owusu, 16, from Walthamstow, was just one of the star pupils celebrating his GCSE results on Thursday 23 August. Having scooped three GCSEs last year, he went onto pass another ten this year.

But if thirteen might be considered unlucky for some, it certainly wasn’t for Riddick who achieved A* grades in nine subjects and A grades in four. With the letter A almost synonymous with Riddick, the call of A-levels was inevitable.

“I’m going to take Biology, Chemistry, Maths and Economics at A-level and then plan to study for a degree and possibly a Masters in medicine. “Ultimately I’d like to be a Consultant as I find medicine fascinating,” he said.

Another Frederick Bremer School student, Marina Ionita, 16, from Walthamstow, was as relieved as she was delighted with her grades. “I was really scared this morning,” she told Waltham Forest News. “I was shaking on the bus and just couldn’t wait to find out my results.”

Thankfully she scooped four As, three Bs and two Cs. “I got As in the subjects I needed to go on to do the A-levels I want to study, so I’m really pleased. Ultimately I’d like to be a journalist.”

Rhys Doe, 16, from Leyton was one of the first boys at Norlington School for Boys to open his envelope. “I’m really happy. I got two A* grades to add to the one I got last year, four As and one B. I’m going to George Monoux College in Walthamstow to study for my A-levels now.”

Usaid Qasmi, 16, from Walthamstow – also a student at Norlington School for Boys – said, “I was really pleased I got what I needed to go on to study for my International Baccalaureate. I was a little disappointed to get two Cs in English, but I got As in five other subjects and a B in P.E.”

Get set for the Paralympic Games

- The London 2012 Paralympic Games begins on Wednesday 29 August
- The Paralympic Torch Relay also comes to Waltham Forest on Wednesday

With 4,280 athletes poised to compete for 2,100 medals, Waltham Forest is once again at the centre of the world as it plays host to the London 2012 Paralympic Games.

The Games will see athletes compete in 20 different sports over the course of 11 days. There are more than 500 separate events, with many taking place at the Olympic Park. Waltham Forest will host the Wheelchair Tennis, which will take place at Eton Manor.

Along with watching the Paralympic events, there are a host of ways that you can get involved and things you can do to minimise any disruption to your daily routine.

For Waltham Forest the excitement will begin with the Paralympic Torch Relay on Wednesday 29 August. Leyton will host a fantastic free family event as the borough welcomes the arrival of the torch.

The torch will make its way from Stoke Mandeville to the Olympic Stadium visiting Waltham Forest and the other five host boroughs on its journey.

The relay in Waltham Forest will begin at Lee Valley Ice Centre. The Torchbearers and convoy will travel to Leyton Jubilee Park (Marsh Lane, E10 7DE) and arrive at around 7.30pm. The celebration event will take place between 5 and 9pm. Residents can enjoy a reduced rate fun fair, free sports activities and live stage performances. No ticket is required, so just come along with your friends and family.

As with the Olympic Games, there will be some changes to Council services during the Paralympic Games to ensure bins are emptied, streets are swept, meals on wheels are delivered and that residents receive the services they expect and rely on.

During the Paralympic Games the times residents have their rubbish and recycling collected will change.

From Monday 27 August to Friday 7 September collections will take place from 4am in Walthamstow, from 6am in Chingford and from 8pm in Leyton and Leytonstone. So remember your collection might not happen until the evening. Collection days remain the same.

As a Paralympic host borough, with Games-time venues, Transport for London's Paralympic Route Network and LOCOG's parking restrictions all operating within Waltham Forest, some delays and disruptions are possible. The Council is asking residents to bear with them and keep an eye on the Council website for the latest service information.

Forest Film Fest

Waltham Forest Council is rolling out the red carpet for residents, offering a weekend's worth of cinematic treats at the Forest Film Fest, which takes place from Friday 31 August to Sunday 2 September.

A total of 12 films will be screened over the weekend, featuring all-time favourites, recent blockbusters and brilliant Disney hits the whole family can enjoy.

The event takes place at Leyton Cricket Ground (High Road Leyton, E10 6PY) and food and drink will be available to buy on site. You can also have your own picnic but please do not bring any glass bottles or jars into the event.

This is the final Big 6 event and it's free to attend. So make sure you pop along and catch a flick with your friends and family.

The 'Big 6' was organised by the Council to help residents celebrate the Olympic Year and say 'thank you' for your understanding for some disruption during the Games. The Council aims to pay for these events through sponsorship and one off income generated by the Olympics.

Leader's view

Cllr Chris Robbins

Leader - Waltham Forest Council

As the borough's young people celebrate their A-level and GCSE results, Waltham Forest is gearing up to play host to the Paralympic Games.

We've had two weeks to recharge our batteries following the success of the Olympics and now we're looking forward to welcoming visitors, athletes and officials from around the world to the borough for the Paralympics.

Waltham Forest is home to the only new facility designed purely for Paralympic competition so the Games has special meaning for the borough's residents. Eton Manor is a permanent facility that will see more than 100 Paralympians competing for just six medals in wheelchair tennis.

We look to their performances to inspire a new generation of sports people in the borough, and with 21 year old Walthamstow resident, Lutalo Muhammad already winning an Olympic bronze in taekwondo, our expectations are high.

While the impact that the Olympic Games had on the borough's roads, transport networks and service was less than expected, we must still bear in mind that the area could get busier in the coming weeks. I ask that residents bear with us during this period, as they focus their attention on the world-class sport performances.

We've been able to capitalise on the Games and make the most of our Olympic Year. We've secured more than £22 million worth of investments into the borough's streets and open spaces, built a Construction Skills Centre to bring top quality training to residents and delivered a host of first class events through our Big 6 programme. We'll continue to build on this momentum to secure additional funding and encourage more residents to take up sport.

While the focus has been on the Games, our young people have seen their hard work in the class room pay off as they've found out their exam results. The borough's A-level pass rate was over 95 per cent while many schools saw improvements in the GCSE results, giving lots of students a reason to be proud.

Just like athletics, studying for exams takes a lot of commitment and dedication and I congratulate our students on their achievements. I wish them all the very best for the future.

I'd like to hear from you. I have a page on the website where you can get more information and email me www.walthamforest.gov.uk/leader and you can write to me at the town hall.

Judo coach needs your vote

A judo coach from Waltham Forest needs your votes to become the British Judo Association's 'coach of the year'. Ricky Haynes started the Kelmscott Judo Club back in 1981 and hasn't looked back since, teaching residents of all ages how to get their grapple on and training many of the club's current coaches from beginner to black belt status. Cabinet Member for Health and Wellbeing, Cllr Ahsan Khan, is encouraging local people to vote for Ricky. He said: "While London's still buzzing from Team GB's record medal haul we shouldn't forget that much of the country's sporting success relies on grassroots clubs and people like Ricky who volunteer their time for the good of the local community. I'd like residents to cast their vote now by way of a 'thank you' for all the time and hard work he's put into community sport in Waltham Forest."

• To vote for Ricky visit www.britishjudo.org.uk/vote. For more information on Kelmscott Judo Club email Ricky at richardjudo@aol.com. Free internet access is available at all libraries in the borough.

Lutalo won an Olympic bronze medal for taekwondo

Olympic success for local man

- Lutalo Muhammad wins bronze medal at London 2012 Olympic Games
- Meet Lutalo at the Paralympic Torch Relay

Over the summer Waltham Forest's residents have been enjoying the spectacle of the London 2012 Olympic Games and all of Team GB's successes. And while hundreds of talented young sports men and women have been dreaming of their future sporting endeavours, one local man's Olympic dreams have already come true.

Lutalo Muhammad, who was born and raised in Walthamstow, is the first British man ever to win an Olympic medal for taekwondo.

Lutalo told Waltham Forest News: "I started taekwondo at the age of three when my father started teaching it at local schools. I obviously had a lot of energy and really took to it."

"I still have memories of being a kid and kicking about the house! My first competition was in 1999, when I was eight, and I won a silver medal."

The success continued when Lutalo became one of the youngest people in the UK to attain a taekwondo black belt aged just nine.

Lutalo adds: "I remember watching the TV and seeing taekwondo at the Sydney Olympics in 2000, the year it was first introduced as an Olympic sport. My dad asked me if I'd like to go to the Olympics as an athlete. I said yes, but never imagined that it would actually come true, and in my home city as well."

So how is life as Britain's first ever male Olympic taekwondo medallist?

"It has been a really wonderful experience to have been involved in the Olympics for the first time and to have won a bronze medal," said Lutalo.

"My phone has been ringing constantly, people have been stopping me in the street to congratulate me and I've been getting lots of tweets. The support has been wonderful."

"It has been a little bit overwhelming, but I am so happy that people have been so supportive of me and all of the Team GB athletes."

Lutalo lived in Walthamstow until last year, when he became a member of the GB Taekwondo team and moved to Manchester, where the team is based. He trains twice a day, and is also a third year student at Middlesex University, where he is studying for a degree.

Lutalo cites hard work and having good role models as the basis for his success.

He said: "I am blessed and thankful to have parents who have supported me with my studies and my sport. They put all their efforts into me; financially, giving their time and helping me train. My parents have been wonderful role models and if it wasn't for them, I wouldn't be where I am today."

"I'd like to encourage more young people to take part in sport, whether it's trying something for the first time, trying to improve in a sport they already do or just to keep fit."

Lutalo Muhammad will attend the Council's Paralympic Torch Relay celebration at Leyton Jubilee Park on Wednesday 29 August, where he will help welcome the Paralympic Torch.

Members of LOASS FC's disability team will compete at the Paralympic Games

Sports for all

- Sport participation in Waltham Forest boosted by the Games
- Could Britain's next generation of Paralympians be living in Waltham Forest?

So far the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games have proved a huge inspiration to Waltham Forest's budding young athletes. Thousands of people turned out to try new sports at the Council's Festival of Sport event and attendance at sports clubs and leisure centres has soared.

And with the Paralympic Games just days away, Waltham Forest's next generation of Paralympic athletes could find the inspiration they have been looking for to try new sports.

There are several sports clubs in the borough that offer young people with disabilities a range of sports to try. Waltham Forest News spoke to two of the local clubs.

LOASS Football Club,

based at Low Hall Sports Ground in Walthamstow, has an under 16s disability team that participates in the Essex FA Soccerbilly League. This year two of their members will be competing in the London 2012 Paralympic Games.

John Abel, Disability Football Development Officer for LOASS FC, told Waltham Forest News: "I'm absolutely ecstatic for the players that are involved in the Paralympics. It's a brilliant opportunity to show the world what young people with disabilities can achieve when they are given the opportunity to express their quality in sport."

LOASS' aims are to make the game enjoyable and fun for young people with disabilities, to develop confident and skilful players and to encourage good sportsmanship and behaviour.

Waltham Forest Hockey Club offers free coaching sessions for young people with disabilities.

In May this year club member Pani Theodorou won the Active and Inclusive Ambassador Award at the Proactive Awards for Sport and Physical Activity for her efforts in setting up Forest Flyerz - the first pan-disability hockey section in the South of England.

Forest Flyerz is for children with any kind of disability, even if they have never played sport before. There are always plenty of volunteers on hand to make sure the children get the attention and support they need.

Pani Theodorou said: "Our sessions for children with disabilities have been great. It's so rewarding to coach and teach kids who don't usually have much access to physical activity. All the young people who have taken part have really loved learning to play.

"It is important for all children to have the same opportunities. The benefit of playing hockey is that it helps build social skills and confidence. It is a challenging team sport."

Waltham Forest Council's leisure centre operator GLL also saw an increase in numbers attending their annual summer disability programme.

The six day sports event was held over two weeks at Waltham Forest Pool and Track in August. It gave adults and children with disabilities the opportunity to participate in a fun multisport programme. Sessions included running and wheelchair events, shot putt, discus, javelin, boccia, curling, table tennis, wheelchair basketball, 7-a-side football, goal ball, seated volleyball, handball and swimming sessions.

The numbers of children attending the event doubled this year and adult attendance, which has always been high, also increased considerably.

In brief

EDL march

Waltham Forest Council is calling on the Home Secretary to ban the EDL march that is set to take place in Walthamstow on Saturday 1 September - midway through the Paralympic Games. Originally the march had been scheduled for 18 August, but the Council worked with the Police to postpone the demonstration. While the Council supports freedom to protest in a peaceful way, it has continued to express concern due to the timing and the potential for violence. Residents are advised to stay away from the march and any counter demonstrations. Cllr Liaquat Ali said: "Waltham Forest is among the most diverse areas of London. We consider this to be one of the borough's key strengths, helping to give the area its unique sense of vibrancy. The EDL is targeting our community because of its diversity, but we are standing together and calling on the Home Secretary to ban any action by the EDL and groups whose main aim is to incite hatred against others because of their religious belief, ethnic origin or sexual orientation. "A Community Cohesion meeting with the Police and community leaders will be held on Tuesday 28 August, where the Council will try to influence decision makers to stop the march. The Police are working to minimise the impact on the community.

E17 Art Trail

The annual E17 Art Trail returns to Walthamstow from Saturday 1 to Sunday 16 September, and the theme for this year's trail is 'Bestow'. The trail will include 350 exhibitions and events at 180 venues. This year over 3000 artists and makers will be taking part and sharing their work. The trail guide, which lists every exhibition and includes a handy map to help guide you around the events, is now available to download from the E17 Art Trail website. You can also pick up a paper copy from selected shops, pubs and cafes in Walthamstow. The trail will include arts and crafts; film; photography; painting, drawing, etching and much more. There will be walking and cycling tours of the trail and an information hub will be open in the foyer of Walthamstow Library on festival weekends. There is even an app for smartphones to help guide you round the trail.

• For more information visit www.e17arttrail.co.uk. Free internet access is available at all libraries in the borough.

Love Your Borough Awards 2013

Nominations will soon open for the Council's Love Your Borough Awards 2013, and residents are being urged to start planning who they would like to receive an award. The annual awards give the Council the opportunity to celebrate the work that residents, groups, businesses, charities and the Emergency Services do to improve the physical environment and quality of life for everyone in Waltham Forest. Whether it's a local residents' association that has spruced up streets, a sports coach who gives over their free time to get children involved in sports, a young person who helps others or someone who helps make our borough safer - we want you to tell us about them. Awards categories include Citizen of the Year, Volunteer of the Year and Uniformed Services Hero. Winners will be honoured at an awards ceremony in April and will win £250 in shopping vouchers.
